FOREIGN LANGUAGE AND AREA STUDIES FELLOWSHIPS 2006-09

Through funds provided by the U.S. Department of Education, the 23 institutions listed below offer Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowships (FLASFs). These prestigious awards for graduate study provide the recipient with full tuition, fees, and a maintenance stipend ($15,000 in 2007-08). The fellowships are for U.S. nationals or permanent residents undertaking full-time graduate study in languages and disciplines in which there is a shortage of trained personnel--especially in Portuguese and Amerindian languages and in the professions.

Summer Intensive Language Fellowships funded by the U.S. Department of Education provide support for students who wish to take a full academic year's modern foreign language study in a summer session. The summer fellowships may be used at an accredited institution's language program in the United States (e.g., Portuguese at Wisconsin/Madison Summer 2007, at Pittsburgh in Summer 2008, at Wisconsin/Madison in Summer 2009, at Illinois in Summer 2010). The fellowships may be used overseas only for advanced language training. Full tuition and fees and a stipend ($2,500 in 2007-08) are provided; a travel allowance may be provided.

Specific information about these fellowships can be obtained from the Latin American program at the institutions listed below. Contact information for these institutions is given in the following section.
